Hi for those who don't know me, I used to be battokoumori or holoebi. I have rebranded several times due to the fact I've never felt like myself until this current OC / Mori. I decided that I really wanted to work on a project. That project was the VBratty group. I was so happy setting everything up, reading apps, and all the good stuff. I fucked up. I am as in the words of other vbratty members "nonexistant" I was away alot.
I am not a good leader in fact I know I am an awful leader. I am so sorry to the members of Vbratty.

I learned that the hard way and I just don't like how things are going. I must provide some IRL context too. This isn't going to be long just a "what's gonna happen" type deal

Health concerns:
I have endometriosis. It sucks. It hurts. I'm in constant pain 24/7 and I just need to bare with it until I can afford surgery next December. I am always away from my computer unless to attempt to stream. This made VBratty more difficult and had others in charge of vbratty who volunteered. I feel worthless about it. I should of shut it down then.

Future of VBratty
I've talked to my close friends about this because I've been so stressed out about this. I am shutting down the group. Who knows down the line I might just make it a vtuber team but for now its being closed. Yes there will be many people upset with me about this decision but at the end of the day I want to do what makes me happy. I knew making an exclusive group could be messy. I regret my choices. I can't hang out with the group as much as I want now and it makes me feel awful when I see messages like "leader is MIA" I can't help it. My health comes first… I know others deal with much worse health issues than me. I am so sorry. I am so sorry to those who volunteered to take care of the group. I failed. I failed all of you
END OF VBRATTY GROUP
